THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY CON-

A delegate convention of the Re- E Beck. publicans of Ford county was held Frank Lopp. in the court house, on Saturday, in SC Rhodes pursuance to a call of the county central committee, for the selection of delegates to the several conventions. adopted: The precincts were all represented except Bloom, and the delegations from the several precincts were present in full numbers.

This convention may be styled the "opening gun of the campaign;" and it attracted no little interest, notwith standing there was no contention in the purposes for which the convention was called; and the deliberations were as much animated as county conventions having presumably great er objects in view.

Chairman Paul Henkle called the convention to order, Frank Chapman, secretary pro tempore, reading the call for delegates.

Ed H. Madison was made chairman remarks. On assuming the chair, Presidency. Mr. Madison said, among other appropriate things, that-

The committee on order of business made the following report, which was

The committee on resolutions re ported as follows:

We, the committee on resolutions, beg leave to report that we deem it unnecessary in this convention and under the existing circumstances to present more than the following:

We believe it to be the sentiment of the Republicans of Ford county that Hon. Willaim McKinley, of Ohio, should receive the nomination at the and accepted the honor in a few brief St. Louis National convention for the

We further believe that additional resolutions touching State and local He predicted harmony among the Re issues better be postponed until we

Several precinct resolutions have been handed in which properly belong in the fall convention.

PAUL HENKEL, Chairman. John B. Paige, Secretary.

A motion was made and seconded for the adoption of the report, but what appeared to be clear sailing in unanimity of sentiment for harmo ny was unhappily interrupted by the "tidal wave" of "free silver, that appears to be troubling the political equanimity of the "old parties."

E. D. Webb at this juncture introduced the following resolutions as an amendment to the report of the com-

Mr. Webb supported this amendment in a few pertinent remarks in

J. R. Hurd opposed the amend ment in just as forcible terms in lively gestures and open threats.

To a Democrat or Pop up a tree, it may have seemed that the senatorial debate by some psychic force had been transferred to the hall of the court house, and that fragments of the G. O. P. would pass through the rent in the roof and ornament the dome of and Kansas breezes. But not so.

When Mr. Webb stated that the avenue to G. Cleveland's gold bug conservatory was not too narrow for Republicans who did not endorse his amendment and chose to go that way, he was simply loguacious; and on the the flexibility of populism and the of protection to American industries great desire for recruits, he did not mesn to consign any one who did not endorse his stand. Mr. Hurd said he was advocating the Republican prin ciple on the money question.

The heat of this argument was only the earnestness of two delegates holding extreme views on a much mooted question of political economy. Republicans are not going to split on the silver question or any other question. They are not going to shred the banner of victory so auspiciously in the foreground.

Mr. Hurd moved to strike out the econd part of the amendment which endorses the position of Senator Carter. The vote stood 38 against and 31 for the motion.

Mr. Hurd then moved that the position of that able financier Senator John Sherman be also endorsed, and his name be added to the second part of the amendment adopted. The convention could not see the consistency of this apparent incongruity, and refused to adopt the motion.

The report of the committee as amended was adopted as a whole and without further discussion.

The following delegates were select ed to attend the convention at Dodge City, April 15th, for the nomination of a candidate for Appellate Judge: J. L. Ridenour, Dr. E. H. Schel lack, I. F. Dawson, J. R. Baird.

On motion of P. F. Sughrue the delegates were authorised to appoint their own alternates. .

The convention adjourned with the best of feeling.

The committee on resolutions desired to forestall the discussion of the troublesome question of free silver until another time when national, state and congressional conventions shall have been held; but the question was precipitated by Mr. Webb, as he said, as being proper for the convention to make known its views, and in a measure to influence the action of the conventions in which the delegates chosen were to participate.

This seemed eminently appropriate, for the reason that the delegates chosen to the congressional and state conventions are not altogether in accord with extreme views on the silver question, but believe in the Republican platform, which calls for sound money in gold, silver and paper, with out reference to the particular views of any individual senator or member of the Republican party on the money question.

It is altogether proper for county conventions—in touch with the mass of the people—to make known popu as the silver question; and we do not was disturbed by the action of the convention on Saturday last. This test shows the trend of sentiment, and also that unlimited free coinage of silver is not so overwhelmingly popular among Ford county Republicans as has been the boast. After all, the points of difference among the the building, at the peril of frosts Republicans on silver are merely distinctions.

The county convention demonstra ted one sentiment as forcibly and vigorously as it could be expressed in language and gesture, and that was its unanimous and unalterable position in favor of William McKinley for the other hand, when Mr. Hurd spoke of Presidential nomination. On the plan and's return to National prosperity, there is but one opinion among Republicans everywhere, and this feeling is shared by the Republicans of Ford

He says: "The Republican party stands now, as ever, for honest money and a chance to earn it by honest toil. It stands for a currency of gold, silver and paper which to measure our exchanges that shall be as sound as the Government and as untarnished as its honor. The Republican party would as soon think of lowering the flag of our country as to contemplate with patience or without protest and opposition any attempt to degrade or corrupt the medium of exchange among the people."

The Seventh District Congressional convention at Wichita, on Monday, nominated Hon. Chester I. Long for reelection to congress by acclamation.

Hon. W. J. Fitzgerald, of Dodge City, was made temporary secretary of the convention.

Hon. Wm. McKinley was endorsed as the candidate for the Presidential nomination.

The convention adopted some ringing resolutions; and favored the free coinage of the American product of silver in these words: "It is the sense of this convention that by wise legis lation the annual output of the silver mines of our country can be added disturbing the equal value of our gold and silver coin, we therefore are in favor of the free coinage of all Amer ican silver."

The platform was adopted without a dissenting vote.

R. P. McColloch of Harper county, was nominated for Presidential elector. He had been a candidate for delegate, but by a deal with Harry Bone he consented to take the nomination for elector. The friends of Hon. M. W. Sutton sought to dissuade him from this; and in a speech before the convention he apologized for his vacil ating course, but his words were a disappointment to the convention, and it was fortunate for him that he had not been called upon before his nom-

The speech by Ed H. Madison in nominating M. W. Sutton for district delegate is pronounced the best made in the convention. The convention cheered loud and long at the conclu sion of Madison's speech, fully a min ute, and he was warmly congratulated.

A ballot resulted in the following vote: Bone 111, Sutton 83, Vincent 148. The trade and duplicity of certain parties is what contributed to Sutton's defeat. Mike made a gallant by La Grppe, by Dr. Kings New Discovfight against the combination, and ery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinsville, Mass., his friends in Ford county and in the State sincerely regret that his defeat was brought about by such means as were employed.

Ed. H. Madison was appointed on the congressional committee to represent Ford county.

The Topeka Capital says of Madison's speech:

"The nomination of Mike Sutton lar sentiments regarding public ques | by Ed H. Madison, of Dodge City, tions of such paramount importance brought out the best speech of the convention. It was sound, logical believe the equanimity of the party and patriotic and worked the convention into unbounded enthusiasm.

When he finished, the convention was disorganized for the time by the rush of Mr. Madison's friends to congratulate him."

The statement made at Wichita that Ed H. Madison would be a candidate for State Senator, is without foundation. He is in no sense a candidate.
